Read the passage below and answer questions 1-7

Once upon a time, fish lived in the forest just like all other animals, but he was the greatest liar of all. He could lie with a straight face.

One day he said, "Hey, Mr Lion, zebra says your hair is ugly and that he thinks that you are not cut out to be king of the forest." Lion roared with anger. He went off to find and kill zebra.

Next, fish went to dog and said, "Hey Mr Doggy, rabbit says you are a lazy idiot and waste all your time sleeping in your master's home."Dog became so angry that he decided to take the law into his own hands and went off to look for rabbit in order to kill him.

Fish lied everyday. His lies caused so much bad blood between different animals in such that they were always at loggerheads. Many animals became enemies until some of them realized who was stirring up trouble among them. The animals told Mr Lion about fish. Lion blew his top when he heard this. Lion called a meeting of all the animals to decide how to teach fish a lesson and bring back peace among the animals. Mr Fish was in very hot soup indeed……

Read the poem below and answer questions 37-40

What she used to do to help

Grandmother cannot manage any longer

As a baby, she went on four legs

And then she walked upright on two

But now she needs a third to walk about

When she rises she feels sad, and when

She sits she complains

Indeed grandmother manages any longer

She is just an article waiting for a new owner

Our turn to honour our grandmother,

When we cried like babies in the night, she lost her sleep,

When we were sick, she moistened the bitter herbs in the mouth

So now, what will I do for my grandmother?

I will give her a blanket covered with patterns

Because my grandmother cannot manage any longer

(Adapted from Mordikal A. Hamutyinei)
